WHO'S WHO IN CAST & CREW

Jerry Cox — Alistair Spenlow — This is Jerry's return appearance to the Possum Point Players in which he last appeared in A Love Affair. He welcomes the chance to be back and working with such a terrific group of people and organization. Jerry has previously taken on roles for the Kent County Theater Guild in Dover, the Phoenix Players in Smyrna, and the Milton Theater. His most recent appearance was playing the part of Mr. Burns in Woody Allen's Don't Drink the Water in Dover. When not on stage, Jerry may be found participating in other theater roles such as ushering, stage crew, or set construction. He has met and made many friends in community theater and looks forward to being engaged in future productions in the area. In addition, Jerry is a member of the Free Speakers Toastmasters Club in Dover which has helped him to perform in front of audiences.

Patrick Erhardt — Walter Pangbourne — Patrick has been involved in community theater for the last 17 years with Possum Point Players and Second Street Players. He has performed in musicals, comedies and dramas. This is the sixth Ray Cooney comedy he has been involved with, "Cooney is my favorite playwright." Pat is a master of accents from British, French, to Irish, just to name a few. When not doing theatre, he spends his time working with Hallmark Cards and taking care of "Little Bear" his Yorkie. "This is a great cast and crew who have a ball doing Ray Cooney so very well."
